Hearing the Word

LESSON: Genesis 2

Reader: Dave Lundblad

Then the Lord God said, "It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a helper as his partner." So out of the ground the Lord God formed every animal of the field and every bird of the air and brought them to the man to see what he would call them, and whatever the man called every living creature that was its name. The man gave names to all cattle and to the birds of the air and to every animal of the field, but for the man there was not found a helper as his partner. So the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon the man, and he slept; then he took one of his ribs and closed up its place with flesh. And the rib that the Lord God had taken from the man he made into a woman and brought her to the man. Then the man said, "This at last is bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh; this one shall be called Woman, for out of Man this one was taken." Therefore a man leaves his father and his mother and clings to his wife, and they become one flesh.

Music Notes

David Lohman's For All the Children was inspired by his work at the Institute for Welcoming Resources, part of the LGBTQ-Welcoming Faith Movement. Lohman was asked to write a hymn in honor of UCC minister Rev. Ann B. Day and her partner Donna Enberg who lead the UCC's Open and Affirming program for twenty years and were retiring from that ministry. For Lohman, "the task was daunting because I had never written lyrics before. I stared at a blank sheet for weeks as the deadline drew ever closer. Then I thought of the adage, 'Write what you know.' So, what did I know? Well, I was clear that the reason I was doing this Welcoming work was so that queer kids growing up after me wouldn't have to experience the despair, isolation, and shame that had filled my own adolescent years. Once that was clear in my mind, thoughts began pouring onto the page and the song almost wrote itself."

As Lohman puts it "church, at its best, is a place where God's unfathomable and limitless love is celebrated. At its worst, the church can be a place where our prejudices and fears of those who are different receive reinforcement every time it declares who is, and who is not, acceptable in God's sight." It is a reminder of the work we have to do to fight for justice for all the children.
